Q. How will the Study/Homework time work?

A. Study/Homework time will be offered from 12:30-1:30. each day. Parents will choose this option for the whole week. Not a daily option. If they choose this option, their child will go into the study room each day at that time. This time will be supervised, but non-instructional. This time will be solely self-study. We will help with basic questions. Parents are responsible to send their child with the needed paperwork, computer, assignments. The child will need to be able to login to a computer and know what they need to do, on their own. If the child does not have the needed materials, they will still go into the study room, but will just work on basic worksheets or art sheets that we will provide. They can not choose to skip the study room on a given day.

Q. What will children do if they do not do the study/homework option?

A. Children that do not choose the study/homework option will have normal rotations in the gym. The option for study/homework is by the week only. This is to ensure that we have the correct number of staff for each area.

Q. Is there any other option for study/homework time?

A. Yes. Children may choose to do self-study/homework during the PM Bonus Camp. This will be solely self-study. No instruction will be given.

Q. Why are we doing these additional camps?

A. These camps are to help those families still needing to work while school is still closed on campus. Or for those wanting additional activities outside the home/online school experience.
